DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on January 12th, 2006, is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner. Please see the attached PTO-1449 (2 pages).

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

IN THE CLAIMS:

Claim 7, line 1: replace the phrase "claim 5" with: -- claim 6 --

The Examiner's Amendment is required to correct an obvious claim dependency error, thus avoiding redundancy and antecedent basis issues.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-9 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claim 1: the prior art of record teaches some aspects of the claimed invention, including the method steps of adjusting a breast compression plate and using an optical device to measure a dimension of a mammography apparatus when the breast is compressed between the plates (see Carroll (US 4,515,165)), as well as the use of optically visible patterns (see Mosby (US 5,260,985)). Furthermore, optical profiling devices per se are known in the art.

However, the prior art of record neither teaches nor reasonably suggests the additional method steps of: 1) imaging the breast compression plate using the optical measuring device to provide an image of the pattern, including a plurality of local image indicia including an associated local image indicia for each local pattern indicia of the pattern, and 2) determining an associated local deflection of the breast compression plate from the associated image indicia for each local pattern indicia, as required by the combination as claimed in claim 1.

Claims 2-5 are allowed by virtue of their dependencies.

Claim 6: the prior art of record teaches some aspects of the claimed invention, including a mammography apparatus having a breast compression plate with vertical adjustment means to set the compression plate to a selected height (all prior art of record), an optically readable pattern (Mosby), breast imaging means for generating an image of a breast compressed by the compression plate (all prior art of record), and optical measurement means (Carroll).

Furthermore, optical profiling devices per se are known in the art.

However, the prior art of record neither teaches nor reasonably suggests the additional features of 1) an optical measurement means for generating an image of the optically readable pattern, and 2) calculating means for generating a deflection of the breast compression plate from the selected height from the image of the optically readable pattern, as required by the combination as claimed in claim 6.

Claims 7-9 are allowed by virtue of their dependencies.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Besson (US 7,092,482 B2) teaches estimating breast tissue thickness between compression plates as a function of x and y coordinates based upon either pressure sensing, plate deflection models, or optical or other means; however, Besson does not teach optically imaging a pattern on the compression plate to determine deflection of the plate from a selected height.

Art Unit: 2882

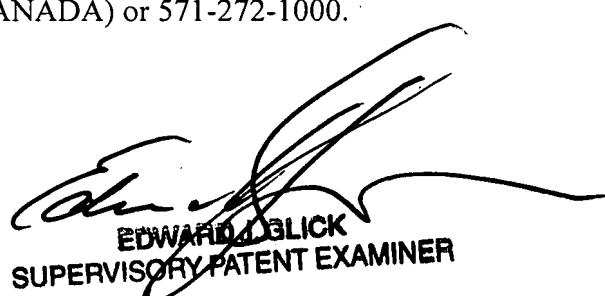

Carroll (US 4,515,165) teaches the use of an optical device for measuring the distance between the compression plates. Mosby (US 5,260,985) teaches the use of a visible pattern in order to more easily align a biopsy needle in a mammography device. Kaufhold (US 6,674,835 B2) teaches that external devices can be used to determine the compressed breast thickness in mammography devices. Colomb (US 5,757,880) teaches optical lenses with deformation for improved optical imaging of a compressed breast.
